INFORMATION FOR ALL NEW OWNERS

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, Federal law requires financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person/entity that owns an account.

What this means: When a person/entity becomes the owner of an account, we must ask for the name, acting trustee/officer name(s), SSN / EIN / TIN, address, date of birth, and other information that will allow us to identify the person/entity. We may also require other identifying documents to be attached. For individual persons, if required by the USA Patriot Act, we will use the information provided and a national database to verify your information.

Changing the ownership could affect your Death Benefit Value and certain Optional Benefits that you already have in place on your Contract. An ownership change could result in the termination of your Optional Benefit. For the Prudential Defined Income Variable Annuity, a change to the Owner/Annuitant may cause the benefit to terminate, and you would lose all associated benefits. If this were to occur, the Death Benefit would equal the Account Value. Please refer to your Contract and/or Prospectus.

The current ownership provisions of this contract may place it under the provisions of IRC Section 72(u). Increases in the value of assets held in this contract(s) (not directly attributable to payment(s) applied) during any calendar year will be treated as ordinary income received or accrued by the owner during the year earned. By signing this form, you acknowledge understanding of this treatment.

Prudential will issue a Form 1099-R on all earnings accrued during the year. We have presented this information based on our understanding of tax law. You may wish to consult a tax or legal advisor for more information because neither we, nor our representatives, can provide tax or legal advice.

SECTION 5 ■ TRUSTEE ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Before we can process the application you have submitted and issue a contract to you, we must have your agreement to the following:

1. You are being issued a non-qualified annuity contract as an investment in connection with a pension plan, which may be a tax-qualified pension or profit-sharing plan under section 401(a) under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), a church or governmental pension or deferred compensation plan (including a plan described in Code section 457 or 409A), or a private nonqualified plan or arrangement which covers no more than 50 participants.
2. If your pension plan is a "pension benefit plan" as such term is defined under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), you are the "named fiduciary" for investment under the terms of the pension plan (as such term is defined under ERISA), and you acknowledge that you have received a prospectus that contains information about the undersigned representative's affiliation with Prudential, charges and fees, commissions, and cancellation rights with respect to the contract, in accordance with the requirements of ERISA Prohibited Transaction Class Exemption 84-24.
3. You represent that, after consulting with your legal counsel who is/are experienced with employee benefit plans, you have determined that the purchase of this contract is legal and appropriate for the plan. You further acknowledge and agree that you are responsible for all plan level administration, including contribution limit testing, other contribution monitoring, distribution monitoring and all other administrative functions that relate to the plan's status under the Code. You further acknowledge and agree that you are relying exclusively on your legal advisors, and not Prudential or its agents, with respect to all tax, ERISA and other legal issues with respect to the plan.

4. You are aware of the Norris decision of the U S Supreme Court (Arizona Governing Committee v. Norris), which held that employer-sponsored retirement plans are prohibited under the Civil Rights Act of 1964 from providing unequal benefits (or contributions) for similarly-situated men and women, and have consulted with your own attorney as to the suitability of the application for the contract, in light of that case and other precedents, and the fact that:
 - a. The applied-for contract contains sex-distinct rates and values; and
 - b. You could purchase a contract from another carrier that is based upon unisex rates and values that would comply with the applicable requirements (Prudential does not offer contracts based upon unisex rates and values).
5. With respect to the contract, you acknowledge that all payments under the contract will be directed to you and that we will provide you with such additional information as may be needed to facilitate your ability to perform tax withholding and reporting for the Plan. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the contract, you understand that Prudential will provide no tax reporting and withholding services and that Prudential does not provide tax or legal advice.
6. You acknowledge that this annuity is being purchased for the sole benefit of one participant who is designated as the annuitant on this annuity contract. If the contract is to be held as an investment under a defined benefit pension plan, you acknowledge the value of the annuity, after reduction for any applicable charges, may be insufficient in conjunction with other plan assets, if any, to cover benefits owned under the plan.
7. You understand that Prudential will only provide regularly scheduled administrative reporting as required under the contract (i.e., quarterly statements), and will provide information annually to facilitate completion of Schedule A to Form 5500 (if required) for the plan and that we may, at our discretion, charge a fee for any additional reports or values requested by you as the trustee.
8. You acknowledge that the sponsor of the plan, not Prudential or its affiliates, is solely responsible for maintaining the status of the plan in accordance with ERISA and Code requirements as applicable, and you agree to hold Prudential and its affiliates harmless from any adverse consequences associated with any failure to comply with ERISA or Code requirements as applicable.
9. If the contract is being held as an investment in connection with a tax qualified pension or profit sharing plan as described under section 401(a) under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the code), you acknowledge that:
 1. I am not receiving any benefit, other than benefits that would otherwise be provided in this retirement plan, from any party dealing with this plan, as a result of the sale of this contract.
 2. I am not a partner or employee of the representative making the sale; and (in the case of a business serving as the independent fiduciary) the representative is not an officer, director, partner or employee of the independent fiduciary.
 3. I am not a relative of the representative (including spouse, direct descendant, spouse of a direct descendant, ancestor, brother, sister, spouse of a brother or sister).

SECTION 6 ■ CERTIFICATION, INDEMNITY, AND AGREEMENT

The undersigned Authorized Individual(s) represent, warrant, and certify that as of the date of signing below, the representations made in the Certificate of Entity Ownership Form (Certificate) are true, complete, and accurate, that the Entity is active and in compliance with state and federal laws, and that the Entity Agreement (as defined above) has not been revoked, modified or amended in any manner which would cause the representations contained in this Certificate to be inaccurate or incorrect.

Prudential will rely on this Certificate and will not be held liable for any act taken by it pursuant to and in reliance upon this Certificate and upon the representations made herein unless and until it receives a written amendment regarding the Entity Agreement, written notice of a change in Authorized Individual(s) or written notice of any events affecting the Authorized Individual(s) powers described above. The undersigned agree to send written notice promptly to Prudential of any changes in Authorized Individual(s), of any amendment or modification to the Entity Agreement which would cause the representations contained in this Certificate to be or become inaccurate or incorrect, or of the occurrence of any event which would affect the Entity Agreement's revocability, the powers of the individuals authorized to act on behalf of the Entity, or any representations made in this Certificate.

The undersigned hereby agree, both individually and on behalf of the entity which they represent, to jointly and severally indemnify Prudential and its affiliates and each of its officers, directors, employees, and agents from, and hold such persons harmless against, any claims, losses, judgments, settlement amounts, defense or settlement (including reasonable attorney's fees), or other losses or liabilities arising out of or related to any acts or omissions taken by Prudential upon the instruction of the Authorized Individual(s) and in reliance upon their representations to Prudential in connection with the annuity owned by the Entity.

SECTION 7 ■ SIGNATURES (If there is more than one Authorized Individual, all Authorized Individuals must sign.)

As of the date this Certificate is signed, the Authorized Individual(s) listed in the Signature Section below are and continue to be all of the Authorized Individuals of the Entity (does not apply to corporate owners). If additional space is required, please attach a separate page. Additionally the undersigned attests that the entity, on whose behalf they are signing, is not an Investment Company.
