No one wants to believe the worst could happen. But with accidents being the leading cause of death for people under 45,¹ the risk of accidental death is real and worth protecting against.

Most Americans are not adequately prepared for the financial risks associated with a significant medical event or premature or accidental death, because:

▶ 66% of Americans live paycheck to paycheck¹
▶ Nearly 52% have less than $10,000 in savings¹
▶ 22% have less than $1,000 in savings¹

Accidental Death & Dismemberment (AD&D) Insurance issued by The Prudential Insurance Company of America (Prudential) can help protect employees against the financial risk of death and severe injuries or conditions, such as dismemberment or coma, that result from an accident event.

Flexible options to help protect against the financial risk of accidental death

You decide who’s covered, how much is covered, and who pays for coverage. Basic coverage is generally offered as an employer-paid benefit to the employee only. AD&D can also be made available as a voluntary or employee-paid option for the employee, their spouses or domestic partners (in states where they are recognized), and eligible children. Evidence of insurability is never required, so applicants can’t be turned down for health reasons.

What’s more, our AD&D plans are available on a stand-alone basis or as a supplement to Basic and Voluntary, employee-paid Term Life Insurance coverages. Employees can be covered 24/7 or just on a non-occupational basis. You also have the option to tailor your Basic and Voluntary, employee-paid AD&D Insurance contract with the following provisions and benefits. For a full list, please see your Prudential representative.

▶ Seat belt and air bag benefits provide an additional payment if an insured dies while riding in a car and properly using a seat belt, or the car is equipped with airbags.
▶ Provisions for loss due to coma, exposure and disappearance, felonious assault, and employee/spouse/domestic partner joint death help protect an insured for these special circumstances.
▶ Spouse or child tuition reimbursement, day care expenses, and surviving spouse benefits help maintain financial wellness for dependents after an accidental death.
