

THE “I’M READY FOR A CHANGE OF PACE” CHALLENGE.

The Prudential Insurance Company of America has been meeting our customers’ financial challenges for over 135 years, with an ever-growing network of locations across the country. Now, we have a challenge for you, in an exciting new opportunity to explore our financial services and insurance business!

MARKETING ASSISTANT, PART-TIME

[City, State]

We’re looking for an energetic and well-organized professional to support the Manager of Financial Services in a variety of administrative, marketing and recruiting functions. Areas of accountability will include:

- Answering phones, scheduling appointments and maintaining the calendar
- Assisting with new business follow-up activities
- Contacting medical offices to check on Attending Physician Statements (APS)
- Interacting with clients to access missing information and/or review status
- Retrieving resumes from Internet sources and scheduling recruiting appointments
- Identifying target markets for recruiting, tracking candidates, updating reports, and administering candidate testing

The ideal candidate will be a customer-focused team player with the ability to juggle competing priorities within a busy environment. Excellent communication, interpersonal and organizational skills are equally essential. Property and casualty (P&C) license will be a plus, but is not required. We will train the right candidate to market to and service our existing clients as well as develop new clients.

Challenges make for a fulfilling life of learning, growth and opportunity. Join us now and see what you can do! Extremely competitive starting salary provided (commensurate with experience). For immediate consideration, please send your resume to:
